New & Updated Postings...

From the President -

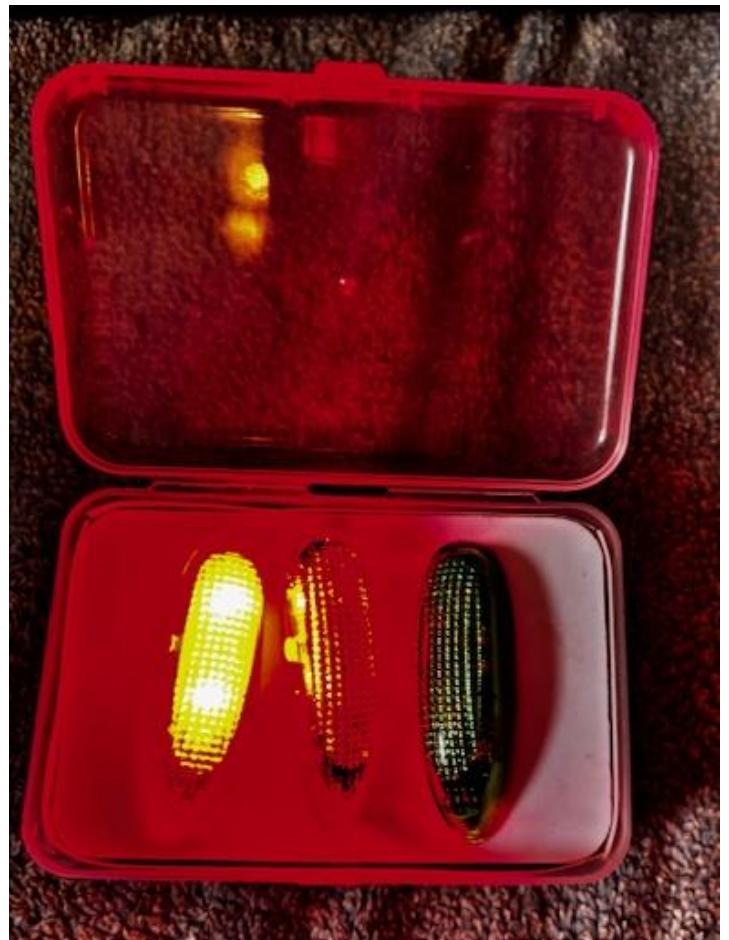

First, due to weather and not much going on we are cancelling the February meeting at the field. Feel free to gather and hangar fly if you want, just be sure to set the furnace temperature down before you leave. At this rate, there will probably still be a snow laden parking lot. Wow, what a start to 2026, cold and snow and time really does fly. I hope everyone is surviving the cold and getting lots of projects ready for flying. It really will turn nice eventually. I have completed a MY Hobby L-39 2M turbine jet or my King Tech 102 turbine while waiting for test flight weather. I installed a full set of Uni Lights which included three landing lights, top and bottom strobes and Nav lights with strobes, nice products to work with. Since flying time seems to be the distance, I have been able to really go over, double and triple check throws, linkages setups, CG etc. I am looking forward to seeing many new aircraft this coming flying season and be sure to take the time to check and double check new aircraft. Also consider doing some PM (preventive maintenance) on existent aircraft.

We have set our 2026 special event dates, and they are posted on our website and Facebook page. If anyone wishes a special event or flying day, let the board members know. Maybe a special shape build, like using existing radio gear from no longer airworthy planes. Think foam flying stop sign or pizza box or Indy car! Remember to fly safe and often.

Referring to the above, if you are interested in easy to install and very cost-effective lights, try the second photo with my monthly ramble. They are available at many outlets, mine from Amazon. They are charged with a micro-USB and are made to self-stick to surfaces.
